

Leadership Steuben Program

Program Description

The Corning Steuben Leadership Program is an innovative experiential training initiative committed to developing key leadership characteristics. The program consists of a multi-faceted curriculum which includes, but not limited to, a Community Project Requirement, Innovative modules focusing on the importance of Partnering, Effective Presentation and Communication Skills, Visioning, as well as Strategic and Tactical Planning. Attendance is limited to individuals with a strong desire and commitment to enhance skills, knowledge, and behavior.

Program Dynamics

The Leadership Steuben Program will be facilitated by Michael McDonald. Mike has conducted hundreds of training seminars around the world and brings a tremendous wealth of leadership and quality experience to this program. He has worked full time as a TQM (Total Quality Management) coach and counselor, and currently mentors many teams throughout Corning Incorporated.

The Corning Steuben Leadership Program brings together the experiences and teachings of distinguished leaders and speakers to develop skill sets, enhance knowledge and affect positive lifelong behavior changes in future community leaders.
